ADVENTUROUS TRAINING SUB AQUA DIVING - DECOMPRESSION TABLES

Reference:

A. DNPTS 630/2 (minutes of 13th meeting of Joint Services sub aqua diving committee on 12 Mar 76).

1. At the Joint Services sub aqua meeting on the 12 Mar 76 the matter of Decompression tables was discussed as a result of the BSAC having changed to the RNPL tables from the 1 Jan 76, whereas the RN were still continuing to use the existing tables.
2. It would appear that there is little likelihood of persuading the RN to change to the RNPL tables, although efforts in this direction have already been made. It was therefore decided that, in order to avoid two sets of tables being used within Service organisations, Adventurous Training sub aqua diving would continue to use the present RN tables until further notice.
3. In the meantime the matter is to be represented once again to the Superintendent of Diving at HMS Vernon and in order to do this the Chairman RN/RM SAC Commander LOWICK was asked to prepare a paper on the subject for DNPTS. This paper is attached for your information.
4. You will see therefore that although the subject is still under discussion, for the time being all Adventurous Training sub aqua diving is to be conducted using the existing RN tables.
